ABOUT “LEADER IN ME” PROGRAM

The Leader in Me is Franklin Covey’s whole school transformation process. It teaches 21st century leadership and life skills to students and creates a culture of student empowerment based on the idea that every child can be a leader.

Since the program launched in 2009, students in nearly 2,000 public, private, character and magnet schools across 35 countries are benefiting from its universal timeless principles and common language and culture, which greatly improve education and communication within schools. Parris South Elementary School in Savannah began this program in the 2012-2013 school year.

The Darryl Worley Foundation, Inc. is a 501(c)3 public benefit corporation organized in 2002 to help serve the needs of the people of Hardin and McNairy Counties in West Tennessee and the surrounding areas of West Tennessee, Northwestern Alabama and Northeastern Mississippi, as well as needs across the country such as St. Jude's Research Hospital, LeBonheur Children's Hospital, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, the Darryl Worley Cancer Treatment Center, etc., as well as giving grants to those in need. At this time, in addition to the regular grant process, the Darryl Worley Foundation has two large projects in the works—The Leader In Me program in the Hardin County School System, and coordinating with local agencies in the development of services for drug and alcohol addicts and their families. The Foundation raises money by donations and by the annual Tennessee River Run events throughout the year.
